

Collection Vibratory Conveyor

Proper collection and movement of product is critical to food processing applications. Collection of high value food products requires gentle handling, and nothing can match the versatility of Key's Iso-Flo® and Impulse™ conveyor collection systems. They offer the processor the reliability, sanitation, low maintenance, extremely low vibration transmission and, most importantly, versatility unequaled by any other conveyor system.

Thousands of Smart Shaker® vibration conveyor systems are at work throughout the world's processing industries, handling fruit, vegetables, berries, snack foods, cereal, potatoes, and other root crops.
